Internal Magic

Now we are going to dive into how to bring your Slide to life. As suggested in the previous module your thoughts, actions, and frequency propel your reality through the slide towards materialization of it. This is how it works: you align your thinking and your actions to the slide, which affects your frequency, which then attracts what it is you need to bring a slide to fruition. Like attracts like right?

Want to rapidly materialize your intention? Go ALL IN on this part. Commit to really living your Slide with everything you've got. Not in an Excess Potential or Importance kind of way (more on this to come), but in a full on, balls deep kinda way.

First though before anything else, you must acknowledge that the version of reality you intend to materialize DOES IN FACT EXIST. Without this step, you are going nowhere and the more you doubt and hold skepticism, the farther away this variation of reality is positioned from you in the Alternatives Space.

So let me reiterate here... You must, WITH NO EXCEPTION, believe that the variation of reality you intend to materialize, is a version of reality in the Alternatives Space, and that you have access to it.

As soon as you start believing it, your reality believes it too. As soon as you start thinking and acting like the version of you living your ultimate intention, your reality projects to you more and more means for taking action in that direction. Reality also begins to abundantly present to you evidence which supports your newfound theory, that not only does this version of reality exist, but is easily obtainable by you.

REALITY
TRANSURFING

For example, I want to buy a piece of property in a distant location, paid in full and exactly what I want it to be. Does this version of reality exist? Fuck yes, it exists and it is much closer than I believe. As soon as I set the intention, I went about aligning my thoughts and actions to it.

I immediately hyper-focused on all it is that will help me towards materializing this version of reality. I cast away doubt, skepticism, and any limiting beliefs.

(Again, take the Quantum Clearing Method if your perceived ability to achieve the goal is overshadowed by limiting beliefs).

I start asking myself questions to confirm that this is doable and something I am capable of.

Am I a person that can have this experience? Yes! Of course! Why not?

Do I possess the skills and ability to pull off this maneuver? Absolutely! Why wouldn't I?

But, you don't know anything about purchasing a piece of property in this country! Ok, I will learn, and I will learn quickly and efficiently.

So, what do I need to do to learn everything that is necessary to facilitate this transaction?

First, I've got to ask questions of people that know more than me. I've got to do some heavy research, go online and find a community of people who have done the same. I've got to ask professionals, an attorney, a real estate agent, and speak with my accountant.

Information collection is key for you to align your thoughts to your intended reality. Without it, you are simply floating in space. Information is the anchor for you to move along the method that I use which I will introduce now: Transfer Chains.

People get overwhelmed by the process of realizing the goal as a whole and usually abandon it in the initial stages. Transfer Chains are an easy way to avoid overwhelm or exhaustion in your efforts of trying to figure it all out in advance. If you try to figure it all out in advance, you'll forfeit the game before you even begin, because it will seem impossible.

Please see the video link provided in the PDF of me explaining Transfer Chains.

You do not need to fill in all the links; just your destination and the first ones, including any others that are easily perceived. Collecting information and advice is a good place to start if you are unsure where to begin. Like magic, other links reveal themselves as you move through this process. The more you pour yourself into each link, the quicker you will move through the chain.

I have become an absolute maniac when it comes to this method. I can blast right through links and move through the chain at lightning speed. I can now get done in a single day what used to take me a week or two to accomplish. Acquaint yourself with this method and you will be handsomely rewarded.

Example: my end goal is to live abroad in a beautiful home with an exceptionally high quality of life that is easily maintained and extremely pleasurable. I do not need to work it all out now!

First, let's start with getting to know the country a little bit better, a trip there and making friends with people who have blazed the path before me. I arrived home after my trip and set my intention. I spoke with a friend on the phone about my idea and he immediately declared that his girlfriend's close friend, who is an American citizen, is moving there as we speak. She's already lived there a number of years and came back to the US, only to feel that she was happier on the previous life track. (WOW! More evidence that this place really is as cool as I felt it was!) I immediately got on the phone with her and we became fast friends with her offering me any assistance and of course, friendship once we were both settled into our ideal location in the Alternatives Space.

I then went into the Facebook expat group and put a post up declaring my intention...

"I AM moving to Tbilisi full-time buying a property there. What should I do next?"

Somebody suggested that I get myself a real estate attorney and a real estate agent. I was offered a dozen or so suggestions and I texted them all and began corresponding with them on a daily basis. This is the only thing that I needed to focus on: gathering more information, and going through the motions of this task in front of me.

Gather information! Gather information! Gather information! Your world will tell you exactly which moves to make if you are open to new information.

This aligned my thoughts and my actions to this link of the chain. I became a magnet to the things I needed for my world to assist in the completion of this link. I found my attorney and my agent and away we all went zooming. I was building my crew.

Sidenote:

Many of the people in my current layer of reality, including my beloved boyfriend, were confused and conflicted about my whimsical choice at first. My partner declared his concerns that it was a bad idea, that it was too risky and too complicated.

People in my jewelry business asked how I would run my business abroad. I could've let these opinions halt my Slide in its tracks, but I realized that they could not see all the ways in which it would work yet. I knew that once I started truly living as if I were on my way, they would have no option. The Slide can act as a vortex to others. In the next module I'll get into how to suck others into that vortex, getting them to help you, rather than talk you out of your Slide.

STAY FOCUSED.

I suggest that you align your thoughts, actions, and frequency in two ways...

The first is done in the context of your goal and how it equates to your state of being now. The Slide I run before bed each night: me living my luxurious life abroad. This goal requires me to transmit the same attitude in my current layer of reality RIGHT NOW.

I don't wake up and complain that I'm not there yet, declare all the ways in which I hate where I live now or long for that intended goal. I love it right now. I wake up in the morning and throw the curtains open and declare what a beautiful day it is. I am absolutely in love with my experience of reality! I act as a person who is passionate about a high-quality lifestyle full of surprises, adventure, and luxury. This allows me to resonate at the exact frequency of the Lifetrack that I intend to merge with.

If I complain, hope and long for something that I view as an impossibility, I am declaring to my world that Lifetrack is a far off sector in the Alternatives Space and the distance between me and my goal becomes a buffer which actually keeps me from this variation of reality.

My job is to live in that reality in the very moment, because the more I can live it now, experience it and the state of being associated with said version of reality, I pull that Lifetrack in closer and the merge almost happens on its own accord. It's like a magic wand.

Being aware of others' opinions of opposition and obstacles I encounter helps me to neutralize sensations that may influence me away from my goal.

Oftentimes, I encounter people that are completely mismatched with their goal or allow themselves to be talked out of it. They want something, yet their thoughts and actions tell their world otherwise. They move through reality collecting evidence exactly how the thing won't work, or buy into it being too difficult. They inject their reality with the poison of doubt and become resentful of the things they feel they cannot have. They create problems and obstacles in their minds and convince themselves that there is no way around them and forfeit the goal. Or, they let others do this for them.

The second task at hand is to align your thoughts, actions, and frequency to the goal itself. Discard the words of naysayers and go about crushing each link in the Transfer Chain. Think about, take action, and resonate at the frequency of each link in the chain itself.

I am an information collector and I actively collect all the information I need.

I am a savvy real estate buyer and I actively know how to facilitate a real estate purchase.

I am a “fill in the blank” and actively know how to “fill in the blank.”

Shift your focus away from all the reasons the thing won't work, what you are lacking, and what you don't know, to all the reasons it will work, all that you are that will allow you success with your goal, and all that you do know. I cannot reiterate this enough.

A little puzzle for you, quickly...

You drop an egg through the bottleneck of a glass container and there the egg grows until it hatches a baby goose. The goose grows and eventually becomes too big for the bottle. How do you extract the goose from the bottle without breaking it and therefore injuring the goose?

Think about that for a minute, and I will give you the answer at the end of this module.

So there you have it... The magical recipe for aligning your internal world to your goal and intention. Become an absolute mercenary about paying attention to your thoughts, actions, and frequency, aligning them to both your Transfer Chain and your state of being that matches accomplishment of your goal. Sound too complex? Convince yourself that it isn't!

The more extreme you go into the mode I am suggesting, the more you speed up the results. Anytime you acknowledge yourself acting in the opposite direction, thinking in the opposite direction or allowing others in your reality to chip away at your Slide...

WAKE YOURSELF UP...

I SEE MYSELF. I SEE MY REALITY.

You do have control, yet you relinquish your control at times and even give it to others. Become absolutely cutthroat at living the reality of your choice within the current frame of reality. I promise you reality will agree in a flash if you choose this to be so.

Do not overwhelm yourself with the entire lot of requirements needed to get you from point a to point B. Simply focus on each link in the Transfer Chain that you need the master, then move onto the next. It goes just like that.

Link one: I am an information collector.

Link two: I gather the resources I need in the form of help from others and build a list of requirements that my world is suggesting.

Link three: I take action in the direction of the requirement or the suggestion of others.

Link four: my world presents to me the next link and I accomplish that one and so on and so forth.

If you get stumped and you don't know what to do next, don't get frustrated and give up.

There is much going on behind the mirror that you cannot see. Doubt this and you lose.

Reality creation often happens in the quiet moments of stillness, where you allow yourself to take a breath and your world to deliver to you exactly what you need. It's best to conserve energy for the right moves than waste your energy on contrived moves.

That being said, don't be lazy waiting for your world to show you every step along the way. Blaze that path yourself, conserve energy when necessary, and continue with anomalous action.

Now, for the answer to the riddle of how to get the trapped goose out of the bottle without breaking the glass...

There is no bottle and there is no goose. I made up that scenario and the problem only existed in your mind. So remove the goose from the bottle in your mind as well. SIMPLE.

So, we've covered the internal world. Now, let's move on to the external. In the next module, we will tackle pendulums that take your energy and keep you from your goal, and how to get others on board. Fuck, yes.
