CHAPTER 7

Importance

Importance emerges anytime something, someone, or some situation, is assigned excessive value. There are two kinds of Importance: Internal and External.

Internal Importance is an overvaluation or overestimation of one's virtues or shortcomings.

Examples: "I am an important person," or "I have an important job." When levels of Importance tip the metaphysical scale, external forces activate to level out the imbalance. Those who perceive themselves as doing important jobs or as being important people are in for a disappointment. In fact, they ensure themselves a fall from grace. The flip side of Importance, an under-evaluation of one's qualities through self-humiliation and self-deprecation, also triggers correction. In both cases, the magnitude of the imbalance is the same. The difference is only in polarity.

External Importance is also artificially created by a person when they assign too great a value to an object or an event. Examples: "I NEED this new job" or "I MUST get my ex back." An imbalance is created, and your whole endeavor seems to fall apart as if the world is working against you.

Imagine that you are tasked with walking across a log on the ground without falling. Easy! Now imagine you must walk across the same log, only this time it has been placed between two skyscrapers. In both cases, you aim to reach the other side without falling. But a few stories up, you will likely feel elevated pressure to successfully accomplish your task. In this example, the space between you and the ground represents Importance levels. This imbalance will be corrected by what is known as Balancing Forces, causing you to lose your balance and fall off the log.

Excess Potential

Whenever an object or event is assigned undue Importance, the excess mental energy you give over will create tension in the local energetic field. Take desire, for example. Desiring something will cause Excess Potential because it acknowledges—with solid emotion—the absence of your object of desire. The excess value placed on its absence will create a polarizing effect. The greater your desire, the further away you will push the Lifetrack on which it exists.

Strongly desiring something you don't currently have creates an energetic "pressure difference." Balancing Forces will quickly show up to correct the pressure imbalance, often leading to the realization of whatever is opposite to your intended result.

Example: An individual wants to be rich, and they want to get rich quick. This individual has acknowledged their lack of wealth by emitting a frequency of solid desire. In their frantic wanting state, they make foolish investments and lose money rather than gain money. They reach quickly and forcefully for money, repelling the desired coordinates. Feeling the loss, they try even harder, and in doing so, increase the pressure difference. The harder they push, the further away they move through The Alternatives Space from their desired Lifetrack.

Balancing Forces

Natural and powerful external forces that seek to restore balance where imbalance is created energetically.

The Rustle of the Morning Stars

The subtle voice of your intuition that whispers insight, ideas, and clarity during the quietest of moments.

The Alternatives Space

The Alternatives Space is an infinite metaphysical informational structure. It contains all versions of all events currently materialized or up for possible materialization into the physical world. The Alternatives Space is a grid of matter moving through space and time, which contains everything that ever was, is, and will be. Everything originates from this grid.

Our world exists simultaneously in two forms: The Physical Reality (everything we can touch with our hands) and The Metaphysical Alternatives Space (the energetic equivalent of everything material), which is located just outside of perception but is just as objectively real.

The mind does not generate anything “new” per se. Instead, it accesses knowledge via The Alternatives Space. All scientific discoveries, masterpieces of art, languages, and ideas are received from this space.

An individual with Heart and Mind Coordination experiences the greatest ease in accessing The Alternatives Space. The deeper you connect to The Alternatives Space, the more capable you will become at materializing favorable variations in waking reality.

Since I mentioned waking reality, let me note here that dreams (the ones we have at night, asleep) are not illusions in the classic sense; The mind does not invent dreams – it experiences them. During sleep, we gain access to unmaterialized variations, i.e., alternate versions of scenarios and scenery. Dreams do us the magical service of showing us the myriad of potentials available to us. Dreaming is a journey of the soul, flying unhindered through The Alternatives Space at night.

Variables

The infinite conditions that exist in The Alternatives Space. Variables are people, places, things, variations of, and alternate scenarios. Anything you could imagine exists as one data point in the infinite atmosphere: The Alternatives Space.

To materialize the world you want to enjoy, you must identify the Variables that exist within it and then pull them toward you and move toward them using the Four Mechanisms of Commanding Your World.

For the Four Mechanisms of Commanding Your World, return to Chapter 1.

Soul Fraile

The unique code that corresponds to your individual soul. Tuning to the Fraile of your Soul is the antidote to environmental programming, imposed “wants” and “shoulds” of others, and the version of you that’s been tailored to suit the standards of Pendulums.

Align with your Soul Fraile, and you will become a lucid embodiment of your TRUE individuality. Tuning in will bring out all your purest characteristics. This is you doing what you love with Heart and Mind Coordination and journeying along the Lifetrack specifically intended for you.

When properly tuned to the Fraile of your Soul, you resonate at a frequency corresponding to the ideal reality sector for you, where everything you desire exists.

Pendulums

Amassed human mental energy creates these aggressive, invisible thought structures. When a group of people focuses their collective attention in one direction, their “thought waves” aggregate into a mass of energy. These covert but very real energy-information structures create Pendulums. Pendulums develop on their own accord and create laws and standards to which their victims must adhere. Under the influence of a destructive pendulum, one loses their personal creative freedom by becoming a cog in the machine. The more people/fans/members participating in this one-sided energy exchange, the stronger the Pendulum will become.

Every Pendulum has its own characteristic frequency. The Pendulum’s objective is to affect an environment’s frequency enough that humans feel pulled to focus on them and feed them more energy. Once a human’s frequency has been affected, their thoughts and actions follow suit. The resulting thoughts, actions, and frequencies correspond to a sector of reality where the Pendulum dominates.

It is impossible to Transurf a reality created and controlled by a destructive Pendulum. In succumbing to the destructive influence of a Pendulum, an individual runs the risk of becoming forcibly diverted away from Lifetracks, where they experience happiness.

To suck energy from their adherents, Pendulums captivate humans by way of their feelings and reactions. They do this by triggering strong emotions like resentment, dissatisfaction, hatred, frustration, anxiety, agitation, oppression, confusion, despair, fear, regret, affection, admiration, tenderness, idealization, adoration, delight, disappointment, pride, arrogance, contempt, disgust, sense of offense, sense of duty, guilt, etc.

Classic pendulums include the media (including social media), politics, religion, professionalism, fashion, pharmaceuticals, the alcohol industry, etc.

Intention

An Intention is a declaration to the world's mirror that you will have something, be something or do something. It represents your resoluteness to have and to act. Once an Intention is determined, the world begins to present options and Variables in line with what the one holding the Intention is seeking. When an Intention is declared, Cracks in the Matrix will appear.

The Alternatives Flow

Dancing with your world. Elevated importance levels hinder flow or cause it to cease entirely. When we focus on an intention with elevated Importance, we obstruct our view of potential resources, Variables, and not-yet-known means of achieving our goal or Intention with ease.

Information is located in the Alternative Space, unmoving and resembling a matrix. The information structure consists of chains linked together. Causation is the reason for the stream of variations.

The restless mind constantly feels the movements of the pendulums. It undertakes to solve all problems, trying to keep the situation under control. Its voluntary decisions, in most cases, are as meaningless as clapping hands in the water. Most problems, especially the little ones, are solved by themselves if we do not hinder the stream of variations.

The main reason why we should refrain from actively fighting to go upstream is that, in this way, we spend this mass of energy in vain or even to our harm. The stream moves along the path of least resistance and contains the most effective and rational solutions. Instead, resistance to the stream creates many new problems.

There is no benefit from the powerful intellect of the mind when the decision already exists in the Alternatives Space. When we do not hinder the current of the variations, the solution will come by itself, and it will be the most optimal one. Optimality lies in the structure of the information field. The Alternatives Space contains infinite variations, but the variations with the lowest energy consumption are most likely to get realized.

Nature does not consume energy in vain.

Standards

Rules, regulations, "shoulds" or "shouldn't," guidelines, codes of conduct, etiquette, duties, social norms, etc. presented to us by Pendulums in our external environment.

Standards create a structure for adherents to follow that helps the Pendulum continue its smooth extraction of Personal Resources. Question the standards a Pendulum has set and be prepared for pushback. This pushback is merely an illusion, which can be successfully navigated by lowering your Importance levels.

Heart and Mind Coordination

This is the state in which the feelings of the soul and the mind's thoughts are all of a single piece. For example, when you are filled with joyful inspiration, your soul 'sings,' while your mind 'rubs its hands with satisfaction.' In this state, you can create and find optimal success. But it does also happen that your soul and mind find unity in anxiety, fear, and denial ... as a result, your worst expectations come true. Finally, if the rational mind repeatedly says the same thing while the heart resists, the soul and mind are in discord.

Goals and Doors

Everyone has their unique way; walking on it, you will find true happiness. Pendulums impose other people's goals that entice them with prestige and exclusiveness. Pursuing false goals, you will either achieve nothing, or if you do achieve the goal, you'll find that you don't need it.

Your own goal will make your life a celebration. Achieving your goal will entail the implementation of all your other desires, and the results will exceed your expectations. Your door is the way that will take you to your goal.

If you move towards your goal through your door, nobody and nothing can stop you because the key to your soul perfectly fits the lock of your way. No one will take what is yours. Therefore you will not have problems with achieving your goal. The problem is only to discover your goal and your doors. Transurfing will support you on how to do this.
